Purchasing Shore Excursions

You can book your shore excursions before you board the ship or once you're onboard:

BEFORE YOU BOARD	ONBOARD THE SHIP
At www.RoyalCaribbean.com/ShoreEx	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>➤ At the Explorations! Desk</li><li>➤ With the order form</li><li>➤ Through interactive TV (where available)</li></ul>

To purchase your shore excursions, view full tour descriptions, images and videos, or download the shore excursion brochures, visit: www.RoyalCaribbean.com/ShoreEx. You can browse the shore excursions by port of call or activity type. You will need to enter your cruise reservation ID, ship name and sail date to view and purchase excursions specific to your cruise. Please note that not all excursions are available on all ships and sail dates.

You can purchase your shore excursions online from at least 3 months to 4 days prior to your cruise vacation. We strongly encourage you to purchase your tours before boarding the ship to ensure you get your first choice as many tours have limited space available and so you can begin enjoying your vacation as soon as you get onboard – one less thing on your mind once your vacation begins. In using our website to purchase your shore excursions, please rest assured that Royal Caribbean keeps your personal data, including credit card details, secure.

When planning your shore excursions, please consider the following:

- In many cases, it is possible to participate in two tours in one day. If booking two tours, we suggest allowing approximately 45 minutes to 1 hour between tours.
- Tour departure times in this brochure and online are local time. Once onboard, please check your tickets for meeting time and location. For ports where guests must tender ashore, if your tour meets on the pier, please allow sufficient time for the tender ride. Departure times are subject to change at anytime.
- As weather is beyond anyone's control, tours are designed to operate under most conditions, thus tours operate rain or shine. In the event a tour is cancelled as a result of inclement weather or for any other reason, you will receive a full refund to your onboard SeaPass account.

After you complete your purchase online, you will receive an email confirmation. Your tour tickets will be delivered to your stateroom onboard the ship. Please check them carefully and note the meeting time and place to join your tour. Please note some tours will meet in an onboard lounge while others will meet directly on the pier.

Although we know you'll enjoy the tours you select, if you change your mind, you can also process a cancellation online for any tours you've purchased online up to 4 days prior to your sail date. Tours are subject to cancellation or withdrawal at any time without prior notice.

Once onboard the ship, you can purchase tours by visiting the Explorations! Desk, completing the order form found in your stateroom, or using the interactive TV system available on most ships. Purchases made onboard the ship will be charged to your onboard SeaPass folio which you sign up for through Online Check-in or at the pier during check-in. Cancellation deadlines for each port are noted onboard and any cancellations requested once onboard the ship will be processed to your onboard SeaPass folio. Please note that some tours such as overland or overnight tours that include flights and/or hotels may have a special cancellation policy due to the nature of the arrangements that must be made in advance. Please read the tour description carefully for these cancellation details.

For guests with mobility disabilities and challenges, please send accessible tour inquiries and requests to shorexaccess@rccl.com no later than 21 days prior to your saildate. For more information on Accessible Cruising and Shore Excursions, please visit www.RoyalCaribbean.com. Please note that tours operated outside of the United States may not provide the same level of access to guests with disabilities.

If you are traveling with a group or would like to arrange a custom or private tour for your family or larger group, please contact us at groupshorex@rccl.com.

For guests participating on a Royal Caribbean Alaska Cruisetour, we offer additional excursions during the land portion of your vacation which you may purchase up to 10 days prior to your vacation or from your Tour Director once you've joined the land portion. Land excursions are available for an additional fee and are scheduled during free time so you don't miss a minute of planned activities.

Tour Pricing

Prices for shore excursions are quoted per person in the selected currency. In many destinations, we offer private vehicles for you to book for more independent sightseeing and these are priced per vehicle as noted in the tour description. Shore excursions include transportation and local guide or escort, unless otherwise noted. Other amenities such as drinks, meals, entrance fees are included as noted in the tour description. Should you choose to leave a tour prior to its completion; any costs incurred to return to the ship will be at your expense. Refunds will not be made for guests who choose to deviate, leave or otherwise not utilize all of the services scheduled to be provided during the excursion.

Children's pricing is available on many tours for guests aged 4 – 12 years. There is no charge for infants 3 years and under for shore excursions (lap child). A parent or guardian must accompany guests under 18 years of age on all tours.

Gratuities are not included in tour prices unless specifically noted. Extending a gratuity to your guide and/or driver is strictly optional; however, in some countries, these personnel may anticipate that if you are pleased with their services, you will reward them in a monetary fashion. A commonly accepted guideline is $4-$6 USD per person for a half day tour and $10-$15 USD per person for a full day tour.

Exchange rates used to calculate prices online are updated periodically. Online shore excursions purchases must be conducted in the same currency as your cruise reservation. Cancellations processed online will be to same credit card and in the same currency as the purchase. Any tours cancelled once onboard will be refunded in USD to your onboard Seapass account.

Prices are subject to change at any time and may vary by sailing. The prices included in this brochure are accurate for the selected sailing at the time the brochure was generated online. To view current pricing, please log into the Pre-Cruise Planner for your specific sail date at www.RoyalCaribbean.com/ShoreEx.

Once Onboard the Ship

Once onboard, if you pre-purchased tours, your tour tickets will be delivered to your stateroom. Please review them carefully and take note of the meeting time and location for each tour. Some tours will meet in an onboard lounge while others meet directly on the pier. For ports where guests must tender ashore, if your tour meets on the pier, please allow sufficient time for the tender ride.

In the event of a delayed arrival into port, please listen for announcements regarding ship clearance to proceed ashore and/or tour departure times. If your tour is meeting in an onboard lounge, staff will make announcements in the lounge regarding tour departure times.

In the event of a change in itinerary or arrival time, you will receive notification of any required changes to the tours you've selected. For guests who have made tour arrangements with vendors not advertised through Royal Caribbean, the shipboard staff will not be able to assist with any changes to those arrangements and Royal Caribbean will not provide refunds for these arrangements if they must be cancelled.

When determining what to wear and bring with you during your tour, please consider the expected weather conditions and where you will be going during the day. Some countries may have more conservative ideas about dress than you're accustomed to. Many places of worship may require visitors to dress conservatively such as avoiding wearing shorts, tank tops and revealing clothing. When reviewing the tour descriptions, please look for the Dress Code icon and language regarding appropriate dress code. We also recommend comfortable walking shoes and in sunny destinations, we suggest a hat, protective sunscreen and sunglasses. Please read the tour descriptions carefully for any additional suggestions on clothing and what to bring. If you have additional questions, please visit the Explorations! Desk onboard.

Many tours allow time for guests to shop or to explore independently, however, unless specifically noted as a shopping tour, tours are not designed around shopping and time allocated is limited and may be altered as needed during the tour. Please look for the Shopping icon and language in the tour description regarding time allowed for independent exploration and shopping. Standards and types of transportation vary considerably throughout the world. Vehicles used for shore excursions may not have air conditioning, restroom facilities and/or seat belts/restraints. For the comfort of all guests, smoking is not allowed on any vehicles used during shore excursions.

Many ports are not located in the city center. For the convenience of guests, a shuttle bus service has been arranged for a fee in those ports where applicable that do not have adequate local transportation available. This service is setup to complement the local transportation and guests are welcome to utilize the local services. Details of which ports will have a shuttle service available for a fee will be provided onboard.

All guests are required to be back onboard no later than 30 minutes prior to the scheduled departure time which is posted at the gangway each day. Shore excursions are scheduled to meet these requirements. If you leave a tour while in progress, you are responsible for ensuring your return to the ship on time. If for any reason a tour is delayed, the shipboard management team will be notified and will await the tour's return. Guests on tours with vendors not advertised through Royal Caribbean are responsible for ensuring they return to the ship on time as it will not wait for them, if delayed.

Copenhagen - the capital city of the kingdom of Denmark since 1417 - is a city in which the modern developments of the 20th century, far from spoiling the atmosphere of history and old-world charm, have been blended with the older buildings and monuments to form a thriving and harmonious environment.

Prices: Adult 79.00 / Child 39.00 USD	Duration: 3 hr(s) 30 min(s)
Restrictions: N/A	Departure Times: 9:30 am

Copenhagen - the capital city of the kingdom of Denmark since 1417, has a long history as the "Royal" city of Denmark, having been associated with a long line of monarchs well before its proclamation as the capital. The location of the city, at the mouth of the Baltic and astride the trade routes between continental Europe and Scandinavia, made it the obvious choice for the Danish monarchs, who once reigned over Sweden and Norway also. Once the city had won royal favor, it attracted the barons, earls and nobility with their retinues. The traces of the wealth, which was concentrated in their hands, remain for all to see, in the form of imposing palaces, mansions and churches.

The tour will take you to Rosenborg Castle, built between 1606 and 1617 by King Christian IV - a prodigious instigator of building and construction work, who today is often referred to as the "builder-king". Today, the castle houses a fine collection of porcelain silverware and fine art, which have belonged to Danish monarchs through the ages, as well as the Crown Jewels and Coronation regalia.

From Rosenborg Castle, you will drive through the heart of Copenhagen, to Christiansborg Castle, until 1794 the home of the Danish Royal Family. After several fires, the castle was rebuilt between 1907-28 and today it houses the Danish Parliament and the Royal Reception Rooms where the Queen entertains her official guests. A visit is paid to the Royal Reception Rooms and the Knights Hall with its magnificent chandeliers and tapestries.

You will continue past Amalienborg Palace - the residence of the Royal Danish Family, the Royal Theatre, Town Hall and Tivoli Gardens. You will return to the departure point - stopping en route at the original location of the world famous statue: The Little Mermaid, the fairytale creation of Hans Christian Andersen, the world famous symbol of Copenhagen.

Inside visits: Rosenborg (1 hr), Christiansborg (45 min.)

Note: Guests must be able to walk approximately 0.5 mile over even surfaces with more than 100+ steps involved. Camera and video photography are not permitted in either palace. Handbags, camera bags, jackets, umbrellas and/or backpacks are not allowed inside of Rosenborg Palace. Tour sequence may vary in order to avoid congestion at the venues. Please be aware that at certain times there may be a private audience with the Queen taking place in Christiansborg Palace (without prior notice) that may prevent the Royal Reception Rooms being visited.

CP08 Castles of North Zealand
Prices: Adult 146.00 / Child 76.00 USD	Duration: 7 hr(s)
Restrictions: N/A	Departure Times: 8:30 am

Denmark is a country made up of the peninsular of Jutland and hundreds of islands. The capital, Copenhagen, is located on the island of Sealand, at an important focal point of trade and sea routes. Over the centuries, the city has attracted people from all over the country - people who have been drawn by the opportunities and wealth, in all senses, which they have perceived to be available. The countryside north of Copenhagen has traditionally been the Copenhageners' playground, particularly for Royalty who has dotted the area with castles and palaces.

Leave Copenhagen and drive north along the coastal road, passing through a number of fashionable and exclusive residential areas where you will pass Hvidore Palace, once a noble residence and now it serves as a conference center for Novo Nordisk Pharmaceutical, before driving through the outskirts of the Deer Park. Having passed through a number of small villages and popular resorts, you arrive in Helsingor, where a visit is paid to Kronborg Castle. Built in the late 16th century by King Frederik II, Kronborg has achieved worldwide fame as the setting for the dramatic masterpiece by William Shakespeare, "Hamlet - Prince of Denmark".

After visiting Kronborg, you will drive to one of the excellent restaurants in North Sealand for lunch, usually Asminderod Inn, which is a lovely thatched inn close to Fredensborg Palace. Depending on the number of passengers on this tour and number of coaches, some coaches will go to Kronborg first while others go to Frederiksborg. Lunch is at the same time, though.

After/before lunch you will see Fredensborg Palace: built on the initiative of King Frederik IV, the palace has an Italianate architecture and is the Spring and Autumn residence of the Danish Royal Family. Continue a short way to Hillerod, where a visit is paid to Frederiksborg Castle. One of the finest examples of Renaissance architecture in northern Europe, Frederiksborg Castle was built by order of King Christian IV and now houses the Museum of National History, a collection of priceless Danish paintings, porcelain, silverware, tapestries and furniture.

The tour returns to Copenhagen, passing through small rural communities and agricultural and forested countryside, arriving back at the departure point in the late afternoon.

Note: Frederiksborg Castle involves an approximate 0.5 mile walk over cobblestone surfaces. The inside visit involves walking over even surfaces and approximately 55 steps. Kronborg Castle involves an approximate 0.25 mile walk over cobblestone surfaces. Comfortable walking shoes are recommended. Flash photography is not permitted in either the Kronborg or Frederiksborg Castle. Tour order may vary in order to avoid traffic and congestion at the venues.

After a short transfer into town we will start the walking tour at the Royal Palace Amalienborg. The palace consists of four equal palaces surrounding the octagonal square. Many celebrations are taking place here – one of the bigger to mention is the Queen’s birthday in April, where the square is packed with people singing birthday songs, waving their flags while waiting to catch a glimpse of the Queen stepping out on the balcony.

The palace creates a line going from east to west. On the eastern end – on the other side of harbor, you will see the newly built Opera – on the other side the Marble Church, which holds one of the biggest domes in Europe – however not to compete with St. Paul's.

Kings Square and Nyhavn lies side by side. Nyhavn is famous for its many restaurants, pubs and bars – on good summer days it is not the worst place to go for a beer! In the canal you will see many wooden ships – many of the nicely restored.

Walking on Stroegtet – one of the longest pedestrian streets in the world will lead us to the “Hidden Gem”. Without knowing the café is here you will never find it, as it has been hidden away in one of the historical backyards on Amager Square – behind the Royal Porcelain factory store. Here you will taste “The Danish Smørrøed” – with a twist – served as what we call “Smushi” it consist of Ryebread or other bread types topped with sliced beef, fish or other Danish Specialites – just like the Danish “Smørrøed” – just smaller pieces. The “Smushi” will come together with a glass of wine or a beer.

The Roayl Café is an experience itself with its very artistic decoration – it has like a small shop selling small funny and odd items, cups, books, postcards etc. When leaving the café we will have a short walk over the lively “Højbro Square”, which is where more of the pedestrian streets in Copenhagen meet. From here you will also have beautiful views of Christiansborg – that houses the Royal Reception Rooms as well as the Danish Parliament. At Gammel Strand we will embark the Canal boat for a cruise through the Copenhagen Harbour as well as the Canals of Christianshavn. During the cruise you will see many of Copenhagen’s famous buildings, such as the Old Stock Exchange, The Black Diamond that houses the Royal Library. Further down the harbour we will pass the newly built Opera right at the waterfront facing the Royal Palace. By the end of the tour the boat will pass probably Copenhagen’s most well known lady – The Little Mermaid.

You will meet many of the characters created by world famous children's book writer, Astrid Lindgren such as Pippi Longstocking, the strongest girl in the world, Madicken (Mardie), Emil, the Lionheart brothers and many more.

Astrid Lindgren has earned admiration and respect the world over and countless awards have been bestowed on her over the years, to many Swede's great disappoint though, she was never granted the Nobel Prize in literature before she passed away in 2002. Her stories have a remarkable power that makes them stay with us even as adults. Entering Junibacken, you will step straight into the Storybook Square, home to many of the best-loved figures in Swedish storybooks. You will climb aboard the Story train taking you on a magical tour through the tales by Astrid Lindgren. This is an indescribable journey of laughter and tears, delight and fear. In 1961, 333 years after the tragic mishap, a Swedish team succeeded in salvaging the great ship, which was astonishingly well preserved. As you stroll around the small streets, it is easy to imagine that you are still in medieval times in the city, which is a living historical monument of international renown. As you wander with your guide, you can drink in the bohemian atmosphere and the sense of age and history in houses, which date from the 15th and 16th centuries, with their baroque doorways and rusting coats of arms. You will see the Great Square (Stortorget) - the hub of the Old Town, on which the Stock Exchange, now the home of the Swedish Academy, stands and the most narrow street – Mårten Trotzigs gränd.

After the visit to the Old Town you will continue with a panoramic drive of Stockholm passing by many of its highlights such as the Royal Opera, Sergel Square, National Museum etc.

Porvoo is an old town situated at the mouth of the River Porvoo. It was an important trading center as early as the Middle ages. In 1346 the Swedish King Magnus Eriksson gave the town its charter.

Porvoo has been loved by poets and artists, perhaps more than any other Finnish Town, amongst them Finland's national poet J.L. Runeberg. Today Porvoo is a small town with a population of 20,000.

Upon arrival in Porvoo, you will stop at the Old Bridge from where you will be able to see one of the most photographed views in Finland: the Old Town of Porvoo with a decorative row of red riverside storehouses.

From the bridge your guide will take you through the Old Town with its idyllic little houses and narrow winding cobblestone streets. You will also have time to walk around on your own and to visit the different small handicraft shops.

After your free time meet your guide who will invite you to the Porvoo Roastery Cafe to enjoy refreshments of coffee or tea and piece of cake. Relax in the summer sun on the cafe's renovated floating barge adjoining the terrace and take in the unique view of the next door red painted wooden warehouses. If the weather isn't favorable enjoy refreshments inside the very atmospheric building built in 1902. The cafe also still roasts coffee beans on the premises which add to the flavor of the venue.

Rejoin your motor coach for the return journey back to Helsinki and your cruise ship.

The order of the tours and the exact route/itinerary may vary depending upon where the vessel will dock and local conditions. Transportation has been obtained for the excursions in St. Petersburg; however, the vehicles' air-conditioning system may not be to North American standards. Not all venues, museums, and attractions are air-conditioned; therefore, guests should dress accordingly. Comfortable walking shoes are recommended for every shore excursion. Heavy traffic conditions along the routes to/from the Palaces of Peterhof & Pushkin should be expected for the months of May through August 2010. Due to the high volume of visitors expected at the various attractions and venues, you may encounter large crowds and long lines (queues) at the venues. Due to this reason, local guides may decide to alter the tour itinerary and the order in which the tour is accomplished. It may not be possible to visit all sites listed. This is beyond the control of the local tour operator or Royal Caribbean International.

Important Information Regarding Visa Requirements in Russia.

During your two-day visit to St. Petersburg, a very special program of excursions has been planned. Guests who have purchased one of the available excursions will not require a visa while on that particular excursion. If you would like to visit St. Petersburg after taking a tour, you will need to obtain a Russian visa.

Please be advised that without a visa, shoreside visitation is limited to the period of the excursion and you will not be permitted to leave the ship outside of excursion hours. If you do have a visa, we still recommend advance purchase of excursions as some tours have limited capacity.

Guests who wish to sightsee independently or sightsee outside of Royal Caribbean shore excursion hours MUST obtain an individual Russian Visa before leaving home. Should you wish to obtain an individual visa for Russia, you will need to have the contracting company (tour agent or travel agency) provide you with the necessary Visa Support Letter and documentation. It will then be necessary to contact the visa service of your choice. All nationalities should consult their appropriate consulate to define their needs for this call. Visas cannot be issued on board the ship. In order to receive a Russian visa, a guest must have a valid passport, which does not expire within 30 days of the last day of the cruise.

Guests who have not purchased one of the available excursions, do not possess a Russia visa, or whose visa is not properly supported by the proper documentation will not be permitted ashore in St. Petersburg by local Russian Immigrations.

Guests on an independent car or van excursion purchased from Royal Caribbean do not need an individual visa to participate in this program.

Independent Car or Van Excursions: In addition to the normal assortment of excursions, Royal Caribbean offers guests a chance to explore St. Petersburg and the countryside via private car or van with a driver and qualified English or foreign language-speaking guide. Please refer to the Independent Car or Van Excursions for more information about this program.

This is a private tour; thus, the family or group of friends who accompany you should agree to share the cost. Royal Caribbean International will not match up persons requesting an excursion to form a private group for a car or van. Please note that a party of two or three must pre-reserve a car, not a van.

Cars and vans should only be pre-reserved by one individual per party, since Royal Caribbean International places orders per vehicle. The entire cost of the vehicle will be charged to that person's credit card details and cannot be divided amongst the party by Royal Caribbean International. A tour ticket will be issued and delivered onboard the ship to the stateroom of the guest booking this tour.

All group participants (in the vehicles) who have pre-reserved a vehicle through Royal Caribbean International Explorations Office will not require an individual Russian visa to participate in this program, unless otherwise stipulated through the Russian Consulate or Embassy in their specific country.

Where To Go: Onboard the ship, the Explorations Office will request the names of each individual in your party. This information is required to allow your party to disembark the ship for the tour. Please provide this information promptly to avoid being denied participation by the local authorities. Private vehicle arrangements are non-refundable after confirmation of the individuals in your party has been provided to the Explorations Office. If you have any questions, the Explorations Office will be able to assist you accordingly.

St. Petersburg is a large city with the same traffic and construction problems found in any other large metropolitan area. Please keep in mind that you must consider travel time, venue location, and crowding when making your tour selections. Since many venues are likely to be visited by other tour groups, please note that you may experience crowding at some locations that is beyond the control of the local agents or Royal Caribbean International.

Lunch Note: The full-day private car or van excursions in St. Petersburg do not include lunch. However, your guide can assist you in choosing a local restaurant suitable for lunch. Kosher food is available in St. Petersburg. It is customary to invite the guide to dine with you, covering his or her expenses. This way, the guide can assist you in ordering and provide an opportunity for you to discuss those subjects concerning St. Petersburg, which may be of interest to you. Your driver will provide his own lunch and remain with the car or van during this time.

In addition, on the day of your private tour, your guide will help organize your itinerary, make recommendations and advise you as to any unusual requests. It cannot be guaranteed that the same guide will escort you on both the AM and PM departures (if 2 are taken) or Day 1 and Day 2 departures (if 2 are taken).

Restrictions: N/A	Departure Times: 1:30 pm

A short drive will take you to St. Isaac’s Cathedral, one of the focal points and landmarks of St. Petersburg. St. Isaac’s is one of the world largest cathedrals. The Cathedral is named for St. Isaac of Dalmatia whose Saint’s Day (May 30) coincides with Peter the Great’s birthday. The church functioned until 1928 and was converted into a museum in 1931. You will be impressed by the vast and opulent interior which covers 43,000 sq ft and filled with hundreds of imposing 19th century works of art. You will see the iconostasis with mosaic icons. While walking through the doors pay attention to the high relieves depicting scenes from the life of Christ and events from Old Russian history. During World War II the interior suffered extensive frost and moisture damage, it was restored from 1947 - 1963.

After the tour of the cathedral you will board your coach for a short drive to the Cathedral of Resurrection on Spilled Blood. For many years this splendid cathedral was closed to the public and opened again in the late 90s as a museum after a 25 year renovation. The Church has a remarkable history. The Church of Spilled Blood was built on the spot where Tsar Alexander II was assassinated on March 1, 1881 when a bomb was thrown at his feet. Inside the church you will see the original part of the sidewalk where the Alexander II's blood spilled on the cobblestone. The temple is one of the finest examples of the Russian Revival Style. With its golden domes, colored spirals, textured cupolas, it is a structure, which bewilders and enchants the eye.

Following the visit to the church your tour will drive through the centre of the city to the St. Nicholas Naval Cathedral. This masterpiece combines baroque style with elements of traditional Russian architecture. The golden crosses on five sparkling domes of the church rise among the trees at the bottom of Glinka Street, sheltering many revered 18th century icons and a fine carved wooden iconostasis. Its beautiful bell tower overlooks the Kryukov Canal. The area was originally settled by Russian sailors in the time of Peter the Great and St. Nicholas is the patron saint of sailors. The walls of the upper church reflect the sad pages of the history of the Russian Navy. They are embellished with memorial marble plaques bearing the names of the sailors who perished on different battleships and submarines in the course of the 20th century.

In the lower church you can find the St. Nicholas icon. It was given to the church by Greek sailors. The lower church also shelters many other revered icons, including the icon of Our Lady of Kazan and the icon of Our Lady of Vladimir. The St. Nicholas Naval Cathedral is one of a few St. Petersburg churches that was not closed by the Bolsheviks after the 1917 revolution.

Peterhof, located 22 miles west of St. Petersburg and on the Gulf of Finland, is one of the most delightful of all summer palaces to visit in the area. The construction of the church was almost entirely funded by the Imperial family and thousands of private donators. The facades are faced with glazed shaped brick and ceramic tiles as well as decorated with mosaic panels. In the decor of interiors, Italian marbles and Russian semiprecious stones are used. Five cupolas of the church, some 1000 square meters in area are covered with jewelry enamel. The belfry is decorated with mosaic coats-of-arms of cities and regions of the Russian empire. Along the way, you'll view the Cottage Palace, the Farmer's Palace, the Gothic Chapel and other places of interest. You'll enjoy an approximate 30-minute ride on the miniature train.

Note: Guests must be able to walk approximately 1.25 miles over gravel paths, cobblestones and even surfaces with approximately 200 steps. Guests are required to walk approximately 0.25 mile from the coach parking area to the Park's main entrance. Please be aware that the Peterhof fountains are subject to maintenance work without advance notification. No interior visit to the Peterhof Palace will be made on this tour. This tour will operate in all weather conditions so participants should take appropriate weather gear (jacket or umbrella) with them. Due to the walking involved in this tour, it is not recommended for guests with walkers or wheelchairs. As heavy traffic can occur along the route to/from Peterhof Palace, guests should expect delays and tour interruptions due to it. As a result, the total time spent at Peterhof might be impacted. This is beyond the control of the local agent and/or Royal Caribbean International. Tour order may vary between groups. Space is limited to number of seats available on the train but a minimum is required in order to operate. Children are provided with a juice box during the tour. A parent or guardian must accompany children 16 years and younger to participate on this tour.

The order of the tours and the exact route/itinerary may vary depending upon where the vessel will dock and local conditions. Transportation has been obtained for the excursions in St. Petersburg; however, the vehicles' air-conditioning system may not be to North American standards. Not all venues, museums, and attractions are air-conditioned; therefore, guests should dress accordingly. Comfortable walking shoes are recommended for every shore excursion. Heavy traffic conditions along the routes to/from the Palaces of Peterhof & Pushkin should be expected for the months of May through August 2010. Due to the high volume of visitors expected at the various attractions and venues, you may encounter large crowds and long lines (queues) at the venues. Due to this reason, local guides may decide to alter the tour itinerary and the order in which the tour is accomplished. It may not be possible to visit all sites listed. This is beyond the control of the local tour operator or Royal Caribbean International.

Important Information Regarding Visa Requirements in Russia.

During your two-day visit to St. Petersburg, a very special program of excursions has been planned. Guests who have purchased one of the available excursions will not require a visa while on that particular excursion. If you would like to visit St. Petersburg after taking a tour, you will need to obtain a Russian visa.

Please be advised that without a visa, shoreside visitation is limited to the period of the excursion and you will not be permitted to leave the ship outside of excursion hours. If you do have a visa, we still recommend advance purchase of excursions as some tours have limited capacity.

Guests who wish to sightsee independently or sightsee outside of Royal Caribbean shore excursion hours MUST obtain an individual Russian Visa before leaving home. Should you wish to obtain an individual visa for Russia, you will need to have the contracting company (tour agent or travel agency) provide you with the necessary Visa Support Letter and documentation. It will then be necessary to contact the visa service of your choice. All nationalities should consult their appropriate consulate to define their needs for this call. Visas cannot be issued on board the ship. In order to receive a Russian visa, a guest must have a valid passport, which does not expire within 30 days of the last day of the cruise.

Guests who have not purchased one of the available excursions, do not possess a Russia visa, or whose visa is not properly supported by the proper documentation will not be permitted ashore in St. Petersburg by local Russian Immigrations.

Guests on an independent car or van excursion purchased from Royal Caribbean do not need an individual visa to participate in this program.

Independent Car or Van Excursions: In addition to the normal assortment of excursions, Royal Caribbean offers guests a chance to explore St. Petersburg and the countryside via private car or van with a driver and qualified English or foreign language-speaking guide. Please refer to the Independent Car or Van Excursions for more information about this program.

The entire cost of the vehicle will be charged to that person's credit card details and cannot be divided amongst the party by Royal Caribbean International. A tour ticket will be issued and delivered onboard the ship to the stateroom of the guest booking this tour.

All group participants (in the vehicles) who have pre-reserved a vehicle through Royal Caribbean International Explorations Office will not require an individual Russian visa to participate in this program, unless otherwise stipulated through the Russian Consulate or Embassy in their specific country.

Where To Go: Onboard the ship, the Explorations Office will request the names of each individual in your party. Private vehicle arrangements are non-refundable after confirmation of the individuals in your party has been provided to the Explorations Office. If you have any questions, the Explorations Office will be able to assist you accordingly.

This way, the guide can assist you in ordering and provide an opportunity for you to discuss those subjects concerning St. Petersburg, which may be of interest to you. Your driver will provide his own lunch and remain with the car or van during this time.

In addition, on the day of your private tour, your guide will help organize your itinerary, make recommendations and advise you as to any unusual requests. PZJ7 Rivers &amp; Canal of St. Petersburg &amp; Yusupov Palace
Prices:	Adult 70.00 / Child 35.00 USD	Duration: 4 hr(s)
Restrictions:	N/A	Departure Times: 1:30 pm

Yusupov family line goes back at least as far as the Romanovs. Crimean merchants of Tartar extraction, the family's wealth rivaled that of the Tsar himself, with some believing the Yusupovs to be richer. As a favorite of the Felix Yusupov, the palace was decorated lavishly exemplifying his wealth and eccentric lifestyle. Once, while in Italy, Felix admired a beautiful white marble staircase and offered to purchase it. Unfortunately, for Yusupov, the owner refused to sell. Not to be disappointed, Yusupov purchased the whole palace, dismantled the staircase and shipped it to St. Petersburg where it sits in his favorite palace today. It was in this palace that Prince Felix Yusupov, had conspired to kill a man whom he regarded a real threat to the future of the Russian Empire. Gregory Rasputin, a peasant who had gained control over the tsar's family through his alleged supernatural powers, was murdered at the Yusupov Palace and his death was as mysterious as his life. Your guide will escort you to the cellar, where 'Madame Tussauds' style wax statues reenact that tragic tea party for you. You will also descend the palace's famous Italian marble staircase to the private theater, sumptuously decorated in the rococo style.

Following the tour of the palace, you will experience a canal cruise where the boat will glide along the canals passing by the embankments with palaces and theaters, museums and private homes. The boat cruises past St. Isaac's Cathedral built in 1858. This is one of the largest churches in the world with a huge gold dome. Further along the Moika is a group of yellow buildings that form the Teachers Training University. At the time of Catherine the Great it used to house the orphanage instituted by the empress. Next is the Stroganov Palace, a baroque masterpiece of Rossi, Count Stroganov, who was the president of the Academy of Arts and a noted collector. The Stroganovs amassed their huge fortune through the monopoly they held on salt. The boat cruises under the Choir Bridge. It takes its name from the Choir Hall located nearby. A cruise along the Moika and the Neva Rivers is another chance to appreciate history and splendid architecture of this beautiful city. At the conclusion of your scenic tour, rejoin your coach for the return trip to the pier.

Note: Guests must be able to walk approximately 1.6 kilometres over flat and cobblestone surfaces with 100 steps. There are a lot of steps on the boat pier and it is not accessible to wheelchairs. Participants should take care while entering/exiting the riverboats. The top decks of the boats are not open for guests' usage due to the close proximity to the bridges. The Museums may change their expositions or close some of the halls without notice. Camera fees for Yusupov Palace are included in the tour cost. Flash photo restrictions might apply in certain rooms. Videos are not permitted. Due to the stair climbing involved on this tour, it is not recommended for guests with walkers or wheelchairs. Tour sequence may be altered to avoid congestion but always covering the mentioned sites.

The Gothenburg we know today was inaugurated as a town 1621 after King Gustav II, tiring of Danish raids, gave the order to build a strong fortress, in order to secure Sweden's only western port. Gothenburg grew rapidly into the trading and maritime city envisaged by King Gustav II, and during the 18th century the East India Company became Sweden's first international trading company. Silk, tea, spices and porcelain, the luxury items of the age, were imported to Sweden from countries such as China, despite journeys often lasting more than a year.

Continue to the city center and Gotaplatsen, the cultural hub of the city flanked by the Museum of Fine Arts, The Concert Hall, The Municipal Theatre and the Library. The square is dominated by Carl Milles' imposing sculpture the Poseidon Fountain. Drive along Avenyn, Gothenburg's loveliest and busiest street, to Gustav Adolfs Torg where you alight the coach on a guided walk. This square is named after the city's founder, and here you will see the City Hall, the Court House and the Stock Exchange.

Continue to Kronhuset, built in 1643-55 and the oldest official building in Gothenburg. The building today holds small 18th century style shops including a general store, a small glassware shop, cafe, chocolate shop and a clockmaker. Pass the East India Company house, which today is home for the City Museum. Next door is the German Church, built in 1748 and one of few buildings that was saved from fire in in the 18th and 19th centuries. Head along the canal towards the harbour. From this pier, many swedish emigrants left Sweden for a new and better life in America. By 1890, close to 800,000 swedes had settled in North America. Admire the Gothenburg Opera House, inaugurated in 1994 and gives performances of musicals, opera, ballet and concerts. The super modern building is a striking example of the swedish love for modern design.

From the harbour, now explore the south side of the canal to see Gothenburg's Cathedral before re-boarding the coach for your return drive via the events district. Pass Liseberg amusement park, the Swedish Exhibition and Congress Centre, Scandinavium and Ullevi arenas before terminating pierside.

Sweden's west coast is her sunshine coast and has become the most popular holiday region in the country. The area is dotted with picturesque fishing villages, inlets and idyllic coastal resorts.

Drive to Fjaeras Braecka, situated by beautiful Lake Lygnern, it is a 4 km long ridge which was formed when the inland receded between 12,000 and 13,000 years ago. It is one of the most remarkable and impressive glacial sea formations in the country. There is a fantastic view.

40 kilometres south of Gothenburg, on a peninsula, you'll find one of Sweden's largest attractions, a beautiful manor house in the Elizabethan style. The house, erected 1898-1904, fascinate thousands of visitors every year. While the front makes you think of the 16th century and the Tudor era, the inside is a brilliant example of Art Nouveau and craftsmanship in the spirit of William Morris. The manor also conceals a comfort far above the standard. The house was heated by a piped hot air system, in spite of the many fireplaces. The three bathrooms were fitted with showers and sunken baths and the estate had its own electricity generator. In order to keep the wall-to-wall carpets clean, a horse-drawn vacuum cleaner was pulled around the outside of the house and the thick hoses were pushed into the rooms through the windows.

Surrounded by the unique environment at Tjoloeholm, there will be some free time to enjoy in the grounds of the Castle, before your coach return to Gothenburg and the Ship.
